

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A call between a first network associated with a calling party and a second network associated with a called party is connected. The source address for packets
5 associated with the call are translated. The packets are sent from the calling party to the called party without the called party receiving the source address that indicates at least one from the group of a logical identity of the calling party and a geographical identity of the calling party.

197839-1

"2293860" 060800